TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6

LOCAL BREVITIES.

THE ICE CROP IS RIPE.
ANNUAL meeting today of the Directors of Longview Asylum.

THERE were one hundred and seventy-eight lodgers at the different station-houses last night.

THOMAS GARRITY will serve out a sentence of $15 and costs for striking a little girl with a stone.

AN OVERCOAT was stolen last evening from Moorbrick's stock, but it was found soon after in a pawnshop.

DEPUTY SHERIFF JOR MOSES left this morning for the Lancaster Reform Farm with a little boy named Cole.

PATRICK JACKSON was fined $15 and costs this morning for committing an assault and drawing a knife on Albert McCall.

SOME UNKNOWN sneak threw a stone through the show-window of Frank Trosch's tailor store, No. 209 Vine street, last evening.

THE FINE collected by the Police Court for the month of October in State cases amounted to $425; in City cases $232.93; in all, $657.93.

JAMES McDERMOTT will be tried November 8 for assault and battery, personal violence to an officer, and malicious destruction of property.

A MEETING of the Common Council will be held tomorrow, to accept the bonds of the late elected Justices of the Peace and for other general business.

PATRICK and Margaret Reed, husband and wife, charged with malicious destruction of property and drunkenness, will be tried in the Police Court on Thursday.

AT a meeting of the Vine-street Congregational Church last evening, a hearty invitation was extended to Rev. C. H. Daniels, of Worcester, Mass., to become their pastor.

HENRY EPKE and Leonard Smith engaged in a free fight, last night, on Walnut and Twelfth streets, creating a great amount of noise and disorder, for which they were fined $10 and costs each this morning.

SERGEANT DEVIN and Officers Lindegarth and Sears yesterday entered a gambling room at 101 Rice street and carried all the tools to Police headquarters. None of the players were caught at gaming.

WHEN Mrs. E. H. Struebbe, of Elm street, retired Sunday night, she had $70 in bills snugly hid away in her bureau-drawer. When she looked for it yesterday, behold it was gone. Who stole the bills she does not know, but the detectives are on his track.

TWO HORSES attached to a lumber wagon ran away on Central avenue last evening. At Sixth street they ran into the team of Anthony Cook's furniture wagon and the shaft of the lumber wagon pierced the breast of one of Cook's horses and killed him.

LAST SUNDAY Andy Schlauffer, a seven-year-old boy residing near the Olive-street station-house, was attacked and savagely bitten in the legs by a dog belonging to a neighbor named Schwartz. Yesterday he was unable to stand in consequence of his wounds.

MARIA WHITE, a resident of Third and Butler streets, was locked in a cell at Hammond-street Station yesterday, for an alleged assault upon a neighbor. Soon after she showed signs of being insane. Whether it is genuine or pretended, will be determined at the Probate Court to-day.

THE trouble concerning the case in which Miss Nolan, a teacher of the Second District School, is charged with cruelly whipping one of her pupils, has been settled. Mr. Joseph Moses, knowing the good qualities of Miss Nolan as a teacher, has transferred her to the Fourth District, and Miss Corrigan, of that district, to Miss Nolan's school. None of the schools are losers by the change, as both ladies are excellent teachers.

A LARGE number of friends gathered last evening at the residence of Mr. A. T. Goswami, the occasion being the completion by the Philadelphia people of the arrangement of the library presented to him as a testimonial of his services as Director General of the Great Exposition. The library is completely finished. The cases are five feet four inches high around three sides of the room, containing over two thousand volumes.

PAT. SULLIVAN and Frank Lydon, arrested on suspicion of having stolen Dr. Newton's carriage robe one night last week, had their cases disposed of this morning. Sullivan went to the Workhouse for thirty days, it being clear that he was an accomplice in the theft of the robe. Lydon, escaping conviction on the first charge, had a second entered against him—that of being a known thief—and was sent out for 30 days and fined $50.

Floating Found.

THE body of an unknown man was found drowned in the Ohio River at an early hour this morning, at the foot of Main street. The man seemed to be about forty-eight years old and was well dressed. An inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

Last Night's Fires.

A burning chimney caused the alarm from Box 78, corner of Sycamore and Abigail streets, about 9:15 last night.

AT half past 11 o'clock two houses, at the corner of Gest street and Dalton avenue, consisting of a two-story brick, occupied as a grocery by Henry Bill, and owned by Mr. O'Donnell, and a two-story frame, owned by Pat. O'Donnell, were badly burned. The fire started in the cellar of the brick house, and spread upward so fast that the inmates had barely time to escape. The only part of the household goods saved was a bundle of clothing seized by Mr. Bill. The stock of the grocery was deluged with water and destroyed. Loss $2,000, covered by insurance.

ABOUT 1 o'clock an alarm was turned in from Box 28, at the Plum-street Depot. The fire was in Claus. Kasper's prior furniture warehouse, No. 218 West Pearl street. The flames were confined to the first floor. How it started is not known. Loss $500.

THE Traveler's Official Guide. This is decidedly the largest and most complete Railway Guide that has ever been published in this country. It has all the information that is of greatest importance to travelers and shippers. This consists of railway time schedules, connections and distances for the United States and Canada, the principal ocean and inland steam navigation routes, maps of the principal lines, lists of general officers, with all the extra offices and post-offices of the country. It has, besides this a variety of miscellaneous reading matter, recording railway improvement and progress of interest to every intelligent person. It is carefully compiled from the most authentic source, and being the official organ of the General Ticket Agents' Association under whose auspices it is issued, its accuracy and completeness can be fully relied upon. Published every month by the National Publication Company, Philadelphia, at 50 cents a number or $4 per annum. For sale by all periodical dealers, news agents and others, and at all depots, ticket offices, etc., etc.

Suicide of a Cigar-maker.

George Grob, a cigar-maker about twenty-eight years old, who lived with his father, John Grob, at No. 50 Fox street, north of Mulberry, committed suicide about 8 o'clock last night by shooting himself in the head with a pistol.

The bullet entered the temple, making a large hole from which the brain oozed. The father of the suicide called in a physician, but before his arrival the man died.

Grob had been ill with consumption for some time. He often expressed a desire to die. On Monday last he quit his board at Kramer's cigar shop, on McKicken avenue, telling the proprietor that he could work no longer.

An inquest was held this morning at the house of the deceased, by Coroner Stich, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

Miss Fanny Davenport, the renowned actress, appeared last night in her wonderful impersonation of "Mabel Bonfrew," in Mr. Augustin Daly's great society drama, "Pique." A more cordial greeting than that which was tendered Miss Davenport last night is seldom witnessed. She played her character with all the excellence of her performance when last here, and is supported by a fine company. Mr. J. W. Norton, who takes the part of "Matthew Standish," is a very finished actor, and all the parts were well sustained. The performance last night was that of a fine play magnificently rendered and most thoroughly appreciated. Miss Davenport was three times called before the curtain.

"Pique" every night except Friday, when Miss Davenport takes a benefit in "As You Like It."

Mattinee Wednesday and Saturday. The opening of the opera season last night brought out a full house, and more, a cultivated, musical and most appreciative audience. That such an audience pronounced a verdict of decided favor on a rendering of such a composition as "Les Huguenots," says all for the excellence of the company that need be said.

The announcement of this composition for the first night, when the audience is most critical, was an assurance of the faith in the management in the individual and collective ability of the company. The result fully justified the course, for every member was equal to his or her part, and as a whole the result was a strong, well tempered and consistent rendering of this difficult composition. Miss Pappenheim gave a fine performance of the role of "Valentine." She has a sweet face and sang superbly, giving all her wealth of expression toward the entire fulfillment of her numbers. Mr. Adams is not only a great singer, but his acting is characterized with ease, grace and finish. He made a great impression at first but wanted to his work as the opera proceeded, till in the fourth act, in the scene with "Valentine," the house fairly echoed with the bursts of enthusiastic applause that followed, as the notes of the two great artists died away.

Miss Pappenheim in the character of the "Page" was pleasing, and showed great improvement in the last two years. She never appeared before in this city, but has done some good work in the East in more important roles than that in which she appeared last night. Her voice is very sweet and gives evidence of great culture. Miss Human has also a rich voice, and is as fine an actress as singer. Messrs. Fritsch, Wiegand, Blum and Adolphe all sustained their parts with the ability and precision that mark true artists.

"The Evening Weber's" master-piece, "Der Freischutz," will be presented, with Miss Pappenheim in the cast again. The bills for the rest of the week have, after some indecision, been determined as follows: Wednesday, "Faust"; Thursday, "Lohengrin"; Friday, "Robert le Diable"; matinee, "Fra Diavolo"; and Saturday evening, "Lohengrin" again. This last is said to be something extraordinarily fine as given by this company.

WOOD'S THEATRE.

"Secret Service, or McParlan the Detective," is a strong sensational play. It is rendered by a good company, and is interesting and exciting in the extreme. The boys consider it immense.

A CLERGYMAN'S JOKE.—A clergyman, a widower, with seven grown-up daughters, left home a few days ago for a neighboring city, and wrote back that he had some news that would surprise them—he had just married a widow with six children. The seven grown-up daughters had an awful time until he returned—alone. One of them mustered up courage to ask, "Where is our mother?" "In Heaven, I hope." "But I mean the widow with six children that you married." "Oul! I married her to another man."

Pond's Extract. Never have we heard of, or heard of even a single instance of dissatisfaction! This we ascribe to the care that has always been taken to claim no more for the remedy than it would certainly perform.

On the other hand, new facts are being elicited of its curative virtues in new directions. These "new facts" are recited in numerous letters we have received, volunteered by a host of correspondents—professional and lay—who have been prompted solely by the surprise and gratitude they have either experienced or witnessed from the use of Pond's Extract.
